John

Requests to the University of Wisconsin totaling $116,565 were announced this morning by President Birge at the commencement exercises.

Among the large donations received for the past year is a bequest of $25,000 by Carl Johnson; $41,700 by H. C. Bradley; and $25,000 by T. E. Brittingham.

The gift of Mr. Bradley will be used for the memorial hospital. Mr.
Bradley previously has given $40,000 to the university. The gift of Mr. Brittingham went to the medical school.

Under the terms of one of the bequests, the name of Carl Jandorf, a student who was slain by a patrolman during a month ago, will be permanently inscribed in a memorial fund. The sum of $115, remaining from the fund collected by students to send flowers to the Jandorf funeral, has been set aside as the initial contribution to the fund.

The donation of Carl Johnson is a memorial to his son, John Cassoday Johnson, member of the class of 1919, who died while in war service, Nov. 25, 1915.

NATURAL BEAUTIES
ECONOMIC ASSETS

To bring the townspeople nearer to the natural beauties of life, the flowers, trees and shrubs, is absolutely essential as a business proposition for any city, according to Prof. Franz A. Auer, who addressed some 40 members of the Roxana club at its fortnightly meeting at the city Y. M. C. A. yesterday.

He attacked the policy of allowing billboards and illustrated how the outlay of a small sum of money could transform a bare lot into a real home, an ugly looking place of property into a picturesque landscape.

LINOTYPE SUPPLY

The Schuyler-Hildman Co., 112 King st., has been incorporated here and will do work on spacebars and other supplies for the linotype.
Mr. Schuyler is well known in this line of work throughout the coun-

Frank Hildman, was with the linotype before it made its appearance on the market.

FOUR DEGREES
ARE CONFERRED

J. B. Parkinson, Magnus Swenson, Prof. Stebbins, Prof. Taylor Honored

Four honorary degrees were conferred by the university at the commencement exercises today. Honorary doctor of laws was conferred upon John Barber Parkinson, vice president and professor emeritus of the university, upon Magnus Swenson, chairman of the state council of defense and federal food administrator for Wisconsin during the war, and upon Alonzo E. Taylor, professor of physiological chemistry in the University of Pennsylvania. The honorary doctor of science was conferred upon Joel Stebbins, professor of astronomy in the University of Illinois.

Prof. Joel Stebbins was a student at the university 20 years ago and since 1905 has been a member of the faculty of astronomy at the University of Illinois. The university honors him as one of the leading men in his science.

Magnus Swenson was graduated from the college of engineering in 1880, received an honorary degree in engineering in 1909, and served as member of the board of regents from 1905 to 1911. The university honors him for his application of science to human welfare, his work on the state capital commission, and his civic service during and since the war.

Prof. Alonzo E. Taylor has distinguished himself as a man of science in the fields of chemistry and physiology. The university is honoring him for his scientific work, his service on the war trade board and as scientific adviser to the food administration during the war, and for his earlier work in the American embassy at Berlin, the reports of which have been of great service to the American relief commission.

BIG WOOLWORTH
BUILDING IS TO BE UNDER MORTGAGE

NEW YORK—For the first time since its erection a decade ago, the Woolworth building—tallest office building in the world—is to be encumbered with a mortgage.

Heirs of F. W. Woolworth, founder of a chain of 5 and 10 cent stores, had arranged to borrow $3, 000,000 on the structure to provide ready funds to meet state and federal inheritance taxes which total $3,000,000. The Woolworth building—729 feet high—returns an annual income of $1,550,000 and is valued at $10,000,000.

969 DEGREES
GRANTED AT EXERCISES

Total for Year Stands at 1,171, Breaking All Records

PRES. BIRGE IN ADDRESS

Dissension of World Today Will Test Education, He Says

The largest class in the history of the institution was graduated from the University of Wisconsin this morning. A total of 969 degrees and diplomas of various grades was conferred at the annual commencement exercises. With the 202 degrees, diplomas and certificates that have been conferred during the year since last June, the total number of graduates for the year is 1,171.

President Birge, in addressing members of the graduating class in the stock pavilion this morning, said:

"You are in a unique position among our college classes. In your freshman year our country entered the world war. We were actively at war during your sophomore year, and you had the full experience of the S. A. T. C. as juniors. The armistice and the negotiations for peace took place while you were juniors, and today, as you graduate witnessed political quarrels at home keep us still technically at war abroad.

"You are only witnesses but feel in full force that unifying and hardening of public sentiment which goes with war—that concentration of all the national thought and personal energy into one channel.
You felt the 'will to victory' of our people so powerfully exerted as to permit no other will.
"And this unity caused by the compelling hand of war has today its natural, its inevitable successor, in glorious dissension. All of the individualism—good or bad—held back by the war now finds relief.
All of the dissent, all of the isms, which war generates in the heart and to which war equally refuses an outlet in speech and act—all these are now in full tide of expression.
Countless revolutionary schemes, great and small, are urged and are seriously discussed by a world which has declined to give them any notice. And apart from these major centers of dissension, public opinion is divided as to innumerable questions of practical affairs in regard to which necessity demands that we act and act promptly.
"Thus you go out to find your place in a world more divided than the oldest of us can remember. You enter a world so divided that its public opinion on any subject can be asserted only by those who mistake their own opinion for that of the public. Yet in all of this confusion directions of movements are vaguely indicated, judgments are crystallizing, policies are forming, which in no long time will demonstrate themselves with startling finality.
"Such a world will test your education here as that of no other class has been tested. Your knowledge of facts will help you but little. The question for you is—have you attained such a grasp on rudimentary principles of thought that you will not be swept off your feet and drifted about helpless in the cross currents of public opinion? Have you so mastered the rudiments of thinking that thought shall even to a degree control your actions?
"If so, college has done its best for you and has given you all that it can.

Goodwin B. Watson, Don Slack and Francis D. Higson delivered addresses and Bishop Samuel Fallows acted as chaplain. Dr. Mills led the singing, and music was furnished by the university band.

The graduating class of 969 breaks the record set by the 946 graduates in 1917 and far exceeds

LA FOLLETTE AND JOHNSON FAVORED

LINCOLN, Neb.—Senator Johnson, Senator La Follette and William Jennings Bryan were endorsed as third party presidential candidates at a meeting of Nebraska members of the committee of 48 to name delegates to the convention in Chicago July 10.

17-YEAR-OLD GIRL
HERE TAKES FIRST
RIDE ON TRAIN

SATURDAY was the first time in all the 17 years of her life that Miss Laura Slyker, 400 W. Gorham st., rode in a train. She probably has the distinction of being the only girl in Madison who has reached that age without having ridden in the most common conveyance in the country.
Saturday she took a trip to Chicago with her sister, Miss Myrtle Slyker.

"I can't say I like riding on trains much and I think Chicago is a dirty, busy place. I certainly should not like to live there."

Miss Slyker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Slyker, was born in Madison and has lived here all her life, having only made occasional trips in automobiles to the homes of relatives and friends in the near surrounding country. She doesn't think she would care much about travelling, she says. She is now employed as stenographer to R. A. Overholser, scout executive of this city.

PHILIPP MEN
MEETING HERE

Conservative Conference
Being Held at the Governor's Office

That a conservative conference is in Madison today, which may be followed by Gov. Philipp's announcement to govern, was indicated by the men who have suddenly appeared in the city. Senator Timothy Burke of Green Bay, a wheel horse for Gov. Philipp, arrived in Madison early this morning. Former Assemblyman Walter Peterson, Racine county, who supported Gov. Philipp in the 1917 session of the legislature, came up from Racine for a pleasure trip.

Henry Grell, formerly assemblyman of Jefferson county, who denounced Senator La Follette in the 1917 session of the legislature as "a dark horse of another color," came to the city today. He told capitol officials that he intended to be a candidate for state treasurer.
Senator Ray J. Nyce, Superior, a well known Wisconsin senator leader, in the city as is Walter Alexander, a former appointive official on the railroad commission, by Gov. Philipp and now in charge of the Philipp car lines in Milwaukee.
Senator Wilkinson is also here.

RAGATZ WINS
JUBILEE MEDAL

Honor Conferred on Madison Senior at Commencement Exercises

Lowell J. Ragatz, Madison, member of the graduating class, was awarded the jubilee medal of the university at commencement exercises this morning. The medal is awarded to the student writing the best essay in science, history or political economy. Mr. Ragatz wrote on Egyptian and Anglo-French diplomacy from 1875 to 1904.
The Lewis prize, awarded to freshmen for the best piece of writing work during the year, was granted to Herbert J. Hagen, Caledonia, Wis., who wrote on "G. K.
Chesterton, A Critical Study." More than a score of students, headed by Doris Berger, Milwaukee, were granted honors in general scholarship.

PUBLIC LIBRARY
ON MOTOR TRUCK

CHICAGO—Probably the first of its kind, a travelling library, has been inaugurated by an Evanston librarian. She uses a motor truck, carrying 400 books. Daily trips were started today. Books are returned without a trip to the library.
Cards are issued along the route.

GIMBELS INDICTED
ON OVER 200 COUNTS

NEW YORK—Gimbel Bros., operators of a large department store here and controlled by interests which own similar establishments in other cities today were indicted on 207 counts for profiteering in clothing.

Says Palmer Has Failed to Make

TO PRESENT MCADOO'S
NAME

KANSAS CITY, Mo.—In a telegram sent from Pueblo, Colo., from the train bearing Missouri delegates to the democratic convention, Burris A. Jenkins, Kansas City, publisher, announced that he has definitely decided to place the name of William G. Mc-Adoo before the democratic convention.

Mr. Jenkins said he was led to the decision by the discovery that half to two-thirds of the Missouri delegates were strongly in favor of McAdoo.

DALLAS, Tex.—Declaring
his intention to cast Texas' 40 votes on the first ballot for William G. McAdoo, the Texas delegates to the democratic national convention left here last night.

(By the Associated Press)
LINCOLN, Neb.—Discussing possible democratic candidates for the presidency, W. J. Bryan in his newspaper, The Commoner, declares that Wm. G. McAdoo is handicapped as a candidate "by his close relationship with the president" while Pres.
Wilson himself, he says, "need not be considered."

Asserting that McAdoo is also handicapped by "his silence on the peace treaty" Mr. Bryan declares Mr. McAdoo is unable to call to his support "those to whom the president's candidacy appealed with special force" and that he would "furnish an easy mark for all of the president's enemies."

The article says, however, that Mr.
McAdoo has considerable strength among wage earners.

Referring to Pres. Wilson Mr.
Bryan says that "while vague hints and suggestions have been thrown out occasionally no one claiming to speak for the president or near to him to express his wishes has announced his candidacy."

Herbert Hoover is eliminated from the list of candidates whom Mr.
Bryan considers "available" while Senator Owen of Oklahoma and Sec'y of Agric. Meredith are described as being "among the few available men thus far mentioned."
To be available this year, Mr.
Bryan asserts, a candidate must be known to be for woman suffrage, for prohibition and "against Wall street."

As to Attorney General Palmer, Mr. Bryan says he entered the campaign in a position "to deal sternly with the profiteer and an expectant public stood ready to applaud but the profiteer seems to have things all his own way and the attorney general is now suffering from the reaction."

He adds that the attorney general is "unfortunate too, in having to espouse the ratification of the treaty without reservations."

Former Speaker Clark is mentioned as having his own state behind him, while opposition to Gov. Edwards of New Jersey and Gov. Cox of Ohio is reiterated.

"Gov. Cox's friends," the article declares "will urge him as a compromise between the wets of the Edwards type and the bone dries." Vice Pres. Marshall is accused of making "a feeble bid for the wet vote."

Girl Who Gets Degree Is Seventh
Member of Family To Attend U.W.

Ruth Johnson, Florida, is Link in Long Family Tradition Favoring Badger College; Record Crowd Watches Exercises

RUTH JOHNSON of Rye, Fla., who presented herself before President Birge this morning to receive a degree of bachelor of arts, is the seventh member of her family to attend the University of Wisconsin, making a record that has probably never been equalled in the history of the institution. Six daughters and one son within the past sixteen years.

All the daughters were members of Delta Delta Delta and four of them have received the B. A. degree from Wisconsin.
The first was Frances, who got her B. A. in 1905. Next came Edith in 1906; then Margaret, 1912, and Ruth, 1920. Another sister, Mary, attended for several years, leaving in 1912 without her degree, and Nina, the third girl, died as the result of burns received while working in the chemistry laboratory during her courses here in 1900.

The only son, Warren, is a member of the class of 1921 and is a Delta Upsilon. He would have graduated a year ago but for overseas service during the war.

Three of the girls are married, Mary having become Mrs. Harold Phelps of Minto, N. Dak.; Frances,
Mrs. Luther Bell of New Rochell, N. Y.; and Edith, Mrs. William Rauv of Detroit, Mich. Margaret is at home and Ruth, who has specialized in sociology, will do social service work. She will return to Florida. Before going to Florida, the Johnsons made their home in Kokomo, Ind.

"Long distance preference" was the unique plan adopted in seating

A plea for a comprehensive workingman's compensation law was made by Francis D. Higson, who delivered the oration for the law school graduates.

Mr. Higson declared that the use of injunctions in strikes had proved an inefficient and inexpedient remedy, and that industrial courts had been condemned by labor.

cost of living the Loyal Order of all of its lodges and 600,000 members to invest as much of their funds as possible in liberty loan bonds and victory notes.

Another resolution adopted endorsed a $10,000,000 endowment for children of deceased Moose and pledged aid in forming a "100,000 club," in which each member will give $5 to start the endowment fund.

The article also says the democratic platform is certain to declare that the convention will have to deal with the subject of "private monopoly"; that the democratic party will "insist upon the tollers' right to equal treatment," and that woman suffrage will be endorsed.

SITUATION
IS PERILOUS
LEADERS SAY

30,000 Men Have Been Dis-

UNREST INCREASING

Labor Leaders Say They Cannot Continue to Hold the Men

(By the Associated Press)
WASHINGTON — Pres. Wilson sent a message today to the railroad labor board at Chicago urging that it make an immediate award of the wage controversy. The text of the message was not made public at the white house.

Announcement of the president's action was made after W. N. Doak, vice president of the Trainmen's Brotherhood had called at the white house and conferred with Secretary Tamm.

"The chiefs of the brotherhoods," said Mr. Doak after the conference, "are considering means to assist in every manner to start the wheels of transportation but know full well that the men must first be given substantial increases in pay before such can be accomplished."

"The board has no reasonable or legitimate excuse in not granting substantial increases in wages to railroad employees and there can be no escape from the fact that the U.
S. railroad board now sitting in Chicago is wholly responsible for the present bad situation. They have been told of the seriousness of the situation and urged, begged and pleaded with to meet this question but are apparently not alive to their duties and responsibilities.

The brotherhoods have informed them of the impending crisis and they would not act. We informed them that unless they did act we would be compelled to appeal to the American public and to notify the president of the United States of the seriousness of this situation. They would not heed the appeal.

"The railroad labor organizations desire the public to know the truth and to fix the responsibility where it rightfully and justly belongs. We have done everything reasonable to keep transportation moving, our men have waited for a year without relief and have worked at wages on which they could not maintain their families. We have appraised everyone, congress, the public, the press, and the United States railroad labor board, that these men could not be expected to continue in the employ of the railroads under such conditions, yet no relief has been afforded them so they are now leaving the service of the railroads."

THEY DEBATE
IN NEWSPAPERS

Pussyfoot Johnson and Mayor McHenry in Hot
Verbal Assaults

MILWAUKEE — The debate between William E. (Pussyfoot) Johnson and Mayor A. C. McHenry of Oshkosh seems already started—in the newspapers. Following a challenge to debate issued by Mayor McHenry, Johnson gave out the following statement: "I have your telegram challenging me to debate the constitution which you have the sublime nerve to attack in the name of Americanism. The eighteenth amendment is a part of the constitution which you, in taking office, swore to defend. Instead of defending it, you attack it. If elected United States senator, you must swear to defend the very constitution you attack. I would not be found dead on any public platform with any man who treats his oath of office as a scrap of paper, as you do. Of course prohibition does not prohibit when such men as you are elected to enforce the law. Go way back and sit down."

McHenry in Reply OSHKOSH, Wis.—"Mr. Johnson's reply to my challenge is exactly what I anticipated, a complete evasion of the question I proposed to debate with him," said Mayor Mc-Henry.

"This question did not involve the constitutionality of the eighteenth amendment, or the Volstead act," continued Mayor McHenry. "Congress may pass and the states may ratify, and the supreme court may declare constitutional a law, but none of these so-called representatives of the people can perpetrate and make eternal a law that the people do not approve. Mr. Johnson is indeed typical of his class in his bold assumption that I, as mayor of Oshkosh, treat my oath of office as a scrap of paper, but the fact that I realize that we all must obey and help enforce the existing laws does not deprive me, or any other citizen, of the American right to fight for the change or repeal of any law which is considered contrary to the democratic spirit of free government. It is evident from Mr. Johnson's reply that his holy reverence for the constitution is limited the eighteenth amendment.
I never knew a subsidized reformer who was willing to debate any question upon its merits. When Mc-Henry goes 'Way back and sits down,' Pussyfoot Johnson will be dead and forgotten."

May Not Oppose Move.
(By the Associated Press)

WASHINGTON — Information prepared for Soc'y. Payne today indicated that unless assurances were given immediately to railway workers that a wage adjustment might be expected soon, the unauthorized strike of trainmen at Philadelphia, Baltimore and other points might not be opposed further by the Railroad Brotherhoods.

W. N. Doak, vice president of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, expected to discuss the situation with Mr. Payne who is director general of the railroad administration.

Reports to labor headquarters here today indicated no improvement in the situation and pointed to increased unrest among the men.
Labor leaders said that since the beginning of the unauthorized strikes 30,000 men had been dismissed from the unions but that the feeling was growing that to continue disciplining the men was impracticable.

Strike May Spread.

FEWER ASK WORK THAN LAST YEAR

A decided falling off in applications for work is shown in the May report of the free employment offices conducted by the industrial commission. During May, 1920, 9,257 persons registered as against 12,564 in May of 1919. Eighty per cent of those who applied were reported employed by employers. There is even a greater demand for women than for men. Special efforts are being made by the employment offices for finding help for farmers.

BEER ISSUE HOT ONE FOR DEMOCRATS

Rumblings Become More Ominous as Delegates Gather at Convention

BURLESON CAUSES TALK

Postmaster General is in Favor of Changing the Volstead Act

(By the Associated Press)

SAN FRANCISCO—Rumblings of democratic discord over the prohibition issue became hourly more ominous today as delegates arrived.

Hope that the gathering storm might spend itself behind the closed doors of the platform committee virtually was abandoned by the leaders and they prepared to face an outbreak of tempestuous debate on the floor.

The question of a platform declaration against the present "bone dry" law almost took the whole stage for itself today as the gathering delegates heard of Postmaster General Burleson's announcement for a modification of the Volstead act. By many who regard Burleson as political spokesman for the white house, the development was accepted as a warning of which way the wind of administration influence would blow, but no one here assumed to know with certainty how far the sentiments of Postmaster General Burleson might be in accord with those of Mr. Burleson.

Homer S. Cummings, national chairman, said today it seemed to be a "fair bet" that the question would be taken to the convention floor regardless of what decision was made in the platform committee.

League Problem Looms. The league of nations disagreement along with several other disputed platform issues has followed the question of candidates into temporary eclipse. Among most of the leaders it is agreed that whatever trouble develops over the treaty will be only a drop in the bucket compared to the prohibition fight.

Leaders of the bone dry force were confident today that they would command a good majority in the platform committee where each state has only one member and could keep out of the committee report a declaration for a change in the present law. Opposing managers declared that when an appeal was taken to the convention itself the vote would tell a much different story. The large states, while having only one vote apiece in the committee will have a much greater voice in the whole body of delegates. And most of the largest delegations are counted on for support by the advocates of a beer plank.

Although Mr. Bryan is expected to make a fight against the administration treaty plank, the belief of his friends here is that he will serve his greatest effort for the prohibition problem.

Senator Glass is the leading candidate for chairman of the platform committee and the general prediction today was that he would be chosen to that position with little opposition.

Can't Beat "TIZ" When Feet Hurt

"Tiz" for sore, tired, puffed up, aching, calloused feet or corns

You can be happy-footed in a moment. Use "Tiz" and never suffer with tender, raw, burning, blistered, swollen, tired, sore feet. "Tiz" and only "Tiz" takes the pain and soreness out of corns, callouses and bunions. As soon as you put your feet in a "Tiz" bath, you just feel the happiness soaking in. How good your poor, old feet feel. They want to dance for joy. "Tiz" is grand. "Tiz" instantly draws out all the poisonous exudations which puff up your feet and cause sore, inflamed, aching, sweaty, sore feet.

Get a box of "Tiz" at any drug store or department store. Get instant foot relief. Laugh at foot sufferers who complain. Because your feet are never, never, going to bother or make you limp any more.—Adv.

MUST MUZZLE ALL CITY DOGS

Health Authorities Fear Spread of Rabies Among Dogs

Upon the petition of a number of Madison residents, the board of health has ordered that no dog be permitted to run at large within the limits of the city from June 23 to July 23, unless securely muzzled. The order was given because rabies exists in the city. Some days ago a dog having rabies was discovered at large by Dr. Karl W. Smith, and as the disease takes some time to develop in other dogs, it is believed that there may be other cases of it.

Violation of the order to muzzle dogs will be prosecuted. Kerr Heirs Pay Tax—Heirs of Dr. Alexander Kerr, who left property valued at about $40,000, of which his home at 140 Langdon St. is valued at $36,000, must pay $284.24, according to a decision made in county court yesterday.

60 Members Are Present in Senate Chamber; Pumps Are Discussed

The Wisconsin Weights and Measures Association came into being this morning when the tentative constitution presented by the organization committee was adopted half an hour after the opening of the second session of the convention of state and city sealers of weights and measures.

A nominating committee was appointed consisting of Harvey Thompson of Madison, chairman, J. F. Flannigan of Green Bay, and F. Mayor of Kenosha, which will report this afternoon, and the election of officers will follow tomorrow.

Over sixty members were present when the convention was called to order in the senate chamber this morning. The organization committee appointed at the opening session yesterday was ready to report, and presented a constitution which was unanimously approved with little debate. It is expected that before the adjournment of the convention the association will be permanently organized.

The accuracy of the gasoline pumps used by garages and auto filling stations was the topic of the day, and several speakers discussed the problem. Dr. Frank Reichman, formerly superintendent of weights and measures in New York state, made a brief address. Models of various testers and improved pumps, scales and measures were on exhibition in the corridors.

SURTAX PLAN HIT BY BIRGE

University President Pleads for Democratic Tax at Alumni Banquet

"A democratic tax for a democratic institution" was urged by President Birge of the University of Wisconsin at the alumni banquet in armory hall last night.

Pres. Birge objected to the university being supported by a surtax on the incomes of the wealthy. He declared that the destinies of the institution are controlled by the body that pays for it, and for that reason it is essential that the tax for the university's upkeep shall be one in which every citizen of Wisconsin has a share.

Class of 1910, holding its decennial union, laid plates for 120 alumni and was the center of attraction at the banquet. Tables filled the armory hall; with representatives of sixty years' of university life taking part in the festival. Veteran graduates of classes more than half a century ago rubbed elbows with youngsters of 1919 vintage. Snake dances, a clanging gong, music of a dozen varieties, kept the crowd at the peak of humor during the evening. Old-timers of the school were on the program with speeches.

LUMBER DOWN SAY DEALERS

Effort is Being Made to Stabilize Market, is Claim

CHICAGO—Lumber prices generally throughout the country have declined from 15 to 20 per cent during the past month, according to a large Chicago lumber company which owns its own woods and mills.

The reduction from what was termed "the hysterical high levels" prevailing earlier in the season was brought about, it was said, by the larger dealers who sought to stabilize the market and increase building. Builders are being advised, the lumber company said, that the present price level would be maintained throughout the year.

LONDON DERRY WAR KEEPS UP

Shooting From Barricades; Bodies Lying in Streets Sinn Feiners Expected

LONDON DERRY.—There was no cessation today in the battle between unionists and nationalist factions which has kept Londonderry in a terror-stricken state.

During the night the factions erected additional barricades from which they kept up a continuous fire.

It was impossible to learn the number of casualties from the authorities. Reports were that several bodies were lying in Bishop st., but it was worth one's life to attempt to get there to verify the reports.

The military remained passive, the troops watching bodies of armed men pass through the side streets to their battle positions. The central police station was isolated from other stations and the police virtually were besieged. It was rumored that a force of Sinn Feiners was gathering outside the city and also that the Irish volunteers were about to take a hand.

No troops had arrived in Londonderry up to this afternoon.

The purpose, it was explained, is "to lay before the public the true side of the present railroad situation and just what means have been employed to bring the present controversy to a successful conclusion."

Why White Footwear?

Even if white footwear merely gave one's feet a more dainty and graceful appearance, that would be sufficient reason for having it. But there is more reason than that. White footwear is cool. White reflects the sun's rays and consequently protects the feet from excessive heat.

KITCHEN IGNORANCE IS RESPONSIBLE FOR OUR POOR COFFEE

NEW YORK—Science has been called upon to aid the housewife in making a "perfect" cup of coffee. Chemists at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology soon will commence a research into the whole art of brewing coffee properly, according to the joint coffee trade committee in this city which will finance the investigation. More than half the responsibility for a poor cup of coffee is due to "kitchen ignorance," the committee says.

MILWAUKEE CAR FARES MAY BE BOOSTED, CLAIM

MILWAUKEE—Street car fares in all probability again will be increased in Milwaukee, despite the decision handed down Monday by Judge E. Ray Stevens. Dane county circuit court, in which he held that the increase from 5 to 7 cents, authorized last October by the railroad commission, was "unreasonable."

Chairman Carl B. Jackson of the railroad commission declared that the decision of Judge Stevens would in no way affect the commission's ruling on the present application of the company for more revenues. The company has asked for additional funds, claiming unless they are provided, it will be unable to meet wage raises recommended by the state conciliation board for its employees.

Rheumatism's Pains Are Always Treacherous

Summer An Excellent Time to Combat the Disease

Some cases of Rheumatism give very little trouble to their victim during the summer season, and for this reason now is a most favorable time to take a course of treatment that will reach the cause of the trouble and remove it from the system.

Otherwise, with the very first cold, damp or disagreeable day, your pains will return, and gradually increase in their severity, until you will soon again be in the clutches of this relentless disease.

Why not begin at once a systematic and sensible attack on the millions of tiny germs which cause your Rheumatism, and forever root them from the system? This is the only way to get rid of the disease, for those germs are in the blood, and cannot be reached by liniments, lotions, and other local treatment.

S. S. S. has proven a splendid remedy for Rheumatism, especially that form of the disease which comes from germs in the blood. Being such a thorough blood purifier and cleanser, it routs the germs from the blood, thus removing the cause of your Rheumatism.

FRANK MAYER GOES 85 MILES TO GET TANLAC

Iowa Farmer Says He Gained 36 Pounds on 5 Bottles and Never Expects to be Without It

"Yes, sir, I've come eighty-five miles to get these four bottles of Tanlac, but after the wonderful good it has done me I wouldn't be without it for anything," declared Frank Mayer, prosperous farmer of Templetown, Iowa, when at Sherman and McConnell's drug store in Omaha, Neb., recently.

"It's about three years ago since my stomach started to bother me and I've been in a mighty bad fix ever since," continued Mr. Mayer. "I lost all desire for food, and what little I forced down would sour on my stomach and fill me up with gas until I could hardly breathe. I had a lot of trouble too with my kidneys and liver and my face got very spotted and yellow. I steadily lost weight and became so weak and run-down that I often had to knock off work for a month at a time. I couldn't sleep at nights and I used to lie and worry over my condition, for although I had the best treatment and medicine that I could get, I couldn't find anything to put me right."

"When I saw by the Omaha papers that so many other people were being helped by Tanlac, I got me a bottle and it sure has done me a world of good. Why, I can eat anything I want now and never suffer the least bit from sourness or gas afterwards. When I stepped on the scales the other day after finishing my fifth bottle of Tanlac I found that I had actually gained thirty-six pounds and I'm so well and strong now that I can do as much work as any man on the farm. It certainly is a great medicine and I strongly recommend it to all who may suffer as I did."

Tanlac is sold in Madison by the Luckey Pharmacies, and in Mazomanie by Geo. A. Shields, in Mt. Horeb by C. C. Robertshaw, in Cambridge by Ole Bilstad and by the leading druggists in every town.—Adv.

From the Earth to the Moon According to the Journal of the Royal Artillery, a shell with a muzzle velocity of five miles a second, if fired at the correct angle, would become an attendant satellite of the earth, and would go round it in a little less than one and a half hours. If the speed were increased to seven miles a second, the shell would go into space altogether.

Reckoning each 1,000 horsepower as equivalent to 30,000 tons of coal yearly, it is estimated that the full utilization of France's 9,000,000 horsepower of waterfalls would net an annual saving of 60,000,000 tons of fuel. The hydraulic power available in 1917 was 760,000 horsepower, which was increased to 1,500,000 in 1918, when projects in view would raise the utilized total to 7,500,000 horsepower.

In the waters of New York there has been a shrinkage of some 30 per cent in state-owned oyster beds and the rentals have fallen from $31,362.12 in 1916-17 to $23,663.50 during the last year. Whereas oysters were once plentiful, present conditions are rapidly forcing them into the class of luxuries, and it is declared that with a further decrease of acreage under cultivation oysters will soon become a rare delicacy.

Fish Acts as Pilot—The most famous of all fish is "Pelorus Jack," a grampus which regularly piloted ships into Pelorus sound, New Zealand, and was finally, after about thirty years' service, protected by a special act of parliament in 1904. Never before has an individual fish attained such honor. There have been rumors of his death, but from the latest accounts he seems to be still in existence.

What Is Nuxated Iron?

Physician Explains—Says Public Ought To Know What They Are Taking—Practical Advice on What To Do To Build Up Your Strength, Power and Endurance and Increase the Red Blood Corpuscles.

The fact that Nuxated Iron is today being used by over three million people annually and that so many physicians are prescribing it as a tonic, strength and blood builder in weak, nervous, run-down conditions has led to an investigation of its merits by designated physicians and others whose reports should be of great importance to the public generally. Among these is the statement made by Dr. James Francis Sullivan, formerly physician of Bellevue Hospital (Quadrant Dept.), New York, and Westchester County Hospital, who says: "When one patient after another began asking me to go thoroughly into the subject and find out for myself whether or not it possessed the real value claimed by its manufacturers and attested to by so many prominent people. This is exactly what I believe every conscientious physician should do before prescribing or lending his endorsement to any product whatsoever. If an article is worthless we practitioners ought not to be the first to know of it and it is of enormous value to us in duty bound to recommend it for the welfare of our patients. A study of the composition of the Nuxated Iron formula so impressed me with the therapeutic value of the product that I immediately tested it in a number of obstinate cases. So quickly did it increase the strength and endurance of the patients to whom it was administered that I became firmly convinced of its remarkable value as a tonic and blood builder. I have since taken it myself with excellent results. There are thousands of delicate, nervous, run-down folks who need just such a preparation as this but do not know what to take. Therefore I have urgently suggested the widespread publication of its formula so that the public may know what they are taking. The complete formula is now to be found in newspapers throughout the country. It is composed principally of organic iron in the form of iron peptonate of a special recipe standard and glycerophosphates which is the most easily and quickly absorbed form of iron. To the credit of the manufacturer it may be said that they use the most expensive form of iron peptonate, whereas other manufacturers use the cheap and inferior metallic iron which could have been put the same quantity of actual iron in the tablets at less than one-fourth the cost and by using metallic iron they could have reduced the cost to less than one-twelfth. But by thus cheapening the product they would undoubtedly have impaired its therapeutic efficacy. In my opinion a careful examination of the formula through the publication of the formula to the pharmacist should convince him that Nuxated Iron is to be placed among the very highest class and most strictly ethical preparations known to medical science. If I expect anything I have ever used for building up the system and increasing the red blood corpuscles hereby endorsing and fortifying the blood builder, I have since taken it."

ILLINOIS COAL AREA
The railroad commission on Tuesday sent J. J. Hogan into the soft coal district of Illinois to ascertain what can be done to get more coal into Wisconsin. The commission believes Mr. Hogan can find cars for the shipment of coal. State officials are becoming worried about the coal situation. Gov. Philipp intends to devote considerable time to this subject and it is said that the support of both Senators Lenroot and La Follette have been secured to help get the coal started this way.

STATE BREWERIES FACE INJUNCTIONS ON LIQUOR CHARGE

MILWAUKEE — Injunctions suspending operations of a number of breweries throughout the state because of the alleged manufacture of beer containing more than one-half of 1 per cent alcohol, are expected to be issued within the next week.
Federal officials today refused to comment on the reported action to be taken.

Analysis of various samples of beer, however, it is said, shows that a number of breweries throughout the state have been manufacturing beer with a real "kick" in it and selling it under a near beer label.
The injunction against the brewery is expected to effectively throw out of business an industry in Wisconsin valued at over $600,000.

Cubs Take Sixth Straight and Move To Second Place; White Sox Trim Athletics

Yankees Trimmed by St. Louis; Two Homers Win for Reds in 11th

THERE were eight games in the major leagues yesterday for a change.

The Chicago Cubs bring up their sixth straight victory at the expense of the New York Giants when they defeated the Brooklyn Robins 4-1. As a result the Cubs are one more in second place, but still two and a half games behind the champion Red Sox.

The giants started off in the first inning as if they meant to win and they showed Lefty Tyler for three runs, but this had no effect on the Cubs. They scored in the third and fourth, and then batted in six runs in the sixth. In the ninth Roberson and Marlin slammed out homers, adding two more runs to the total and making the final score 10 to 4.

Dickey Kerr, world's series hero and midget pitcher, extraordinary, won a game yesterday for the White Sox. This is the first time a long while that Kerr has come through with a win, but he pitched brilliant ball throughout the contest and held Connie Mack's Athletics to seven hits and one run. The White Sox collected a couple of rallies in the eighth, and McMillan's wild throw for the Athletics came one in the ninth. Score, 2 to 1.

Ray Caldwell won his seventh straight game for the Cleveland Indians yesterday. The Indians defeated the Boston Red Sox in a five-hitting game, 10 to 5, and with all the runs behind him Caldwell didn't have to work very hard to win his game. He gave the Boston team twelve hits, while his mates made twenty of three Red Sox hitters.

The Washington Senators made it two straight over Detroit by defeating them 9 to 1. Both Red and Garvey made home runs. Davis was the Tiger batter who got credit for the defeat.

Carl Mays, famed Yankee pitcher, has no terrors for the St. Louis Browns. Mays was treated roughly by the Mount City batters yesterday, who were so inconspicuous as to drive him out of the box after scoring eight runs in three innings. The Yankees were helpless before Davis, and even Babe Ruth couldn't do a thing. The Browns won, 9 to 2.

The Braves and Cards engaged in an eleven-inning tie yesterday at Braves' field, and a single in the eleventh by Boeckel scored Cruise, with the winning run for Boston. The game was a pitcher's battle between Scott and Halish.

Two home runs, one after the other, won for the Cincinnati Reds in the eleven-inning of an overtime game between the Reds and Phillies. The score was 3 to 1, the Reds having tied the count in the eighth.

The Brooklyn Robins continued their losing streak yesterday, and lost to the Pirates 9 to 7. Wagner lasted but two innings, and Smith less than one inning. The Robins dropped back to third place as a result of the game.

ROUNDY'S RAZZBERRIES

It seems to me this New-York whist player, who was murdered and whose name is Ellwell, seems to be a much more important person dead than alive.

What I call a man who can take punishment is a fellow who can travel as a baseball coach for the Athletics.

Dr. Purcell says coffee drinking is ruinous, and Tom Franey tells you about the evil effects of quaffing tea.

Judge Landis restricts lake water, beer is prohibited by law, and bourbon is six bits a shot. What can a poor man do?

Yesterday was the second day of summer. I suppose you learn the fact by reading the calendar.

You all know Kid Britt, the local boxing champ. He says at the next show he is going to knock his man out so long that Boyd, the promoter, will charge him rent for sleeping in the ring so long.

You all know Sam Edwards, the farmer, who has moved 9 times in 2 years. He has moved so often his neighbors say that the chickens come right out of the coop and cross their legs to have them tied, they're so used to it.

I will bet when Carpentier fights Dempsey and gets back to France he will say 3,000 miles away are the happy miles to me.

Did you see by the paper where they have a safety first ring at Benton Harbor, Mich. for the White-Leonard fight? I suppose White is happy. I thought he would get knocked into an ambulance.

The city employees may get a 10 per cent increase in wages. They are all happy because they can have one egg a week extra now or that.

Say what has become of that fellow who used to start out each morning at 10 o'clock and go to a saloon and get a beer and a lunch?

I heard so much about Janesville, Wis., this last year that when the census came out I thought Madison would look like a suburb compared to it. I suppose you saw it yesterday—18,000 people. O yes, it went nicely ahead backward.

JOHNSTON IS DEFEATED IN BRITISH MEET

WIMBLEDON—William M. Johnston of California, U. S. singles champion, after winning the London lawn tennis championship last week, was defeated on Tuesday by J. C. Parke, the British international player in the second round of the tournament for the British championship. The score was 7-5, 2-6, 6-2, 8-6.

Tuesday's match was one of the most thrilling and hard fought contests ever staged on the famous Wimbledon courts. Sensational play was witnessed by the large gallery from the opening of play until the last point was scored, the spectators being thrilled in turn by the well-placed drives of Parke, his remarkable back-hand shots and the frequency with which he hit the lines.

Enthusiasm was at its height, however, when in the fourth set Johnston succeeded in bringing the count to six-all. At the opening of this set the Californian was in a bad shape, having only one game to the Englishman's three. He rallied and put the score at three-all. After the score stood at 6-5 in favor of Parke, Johnston won the next game and made extra play necessary.

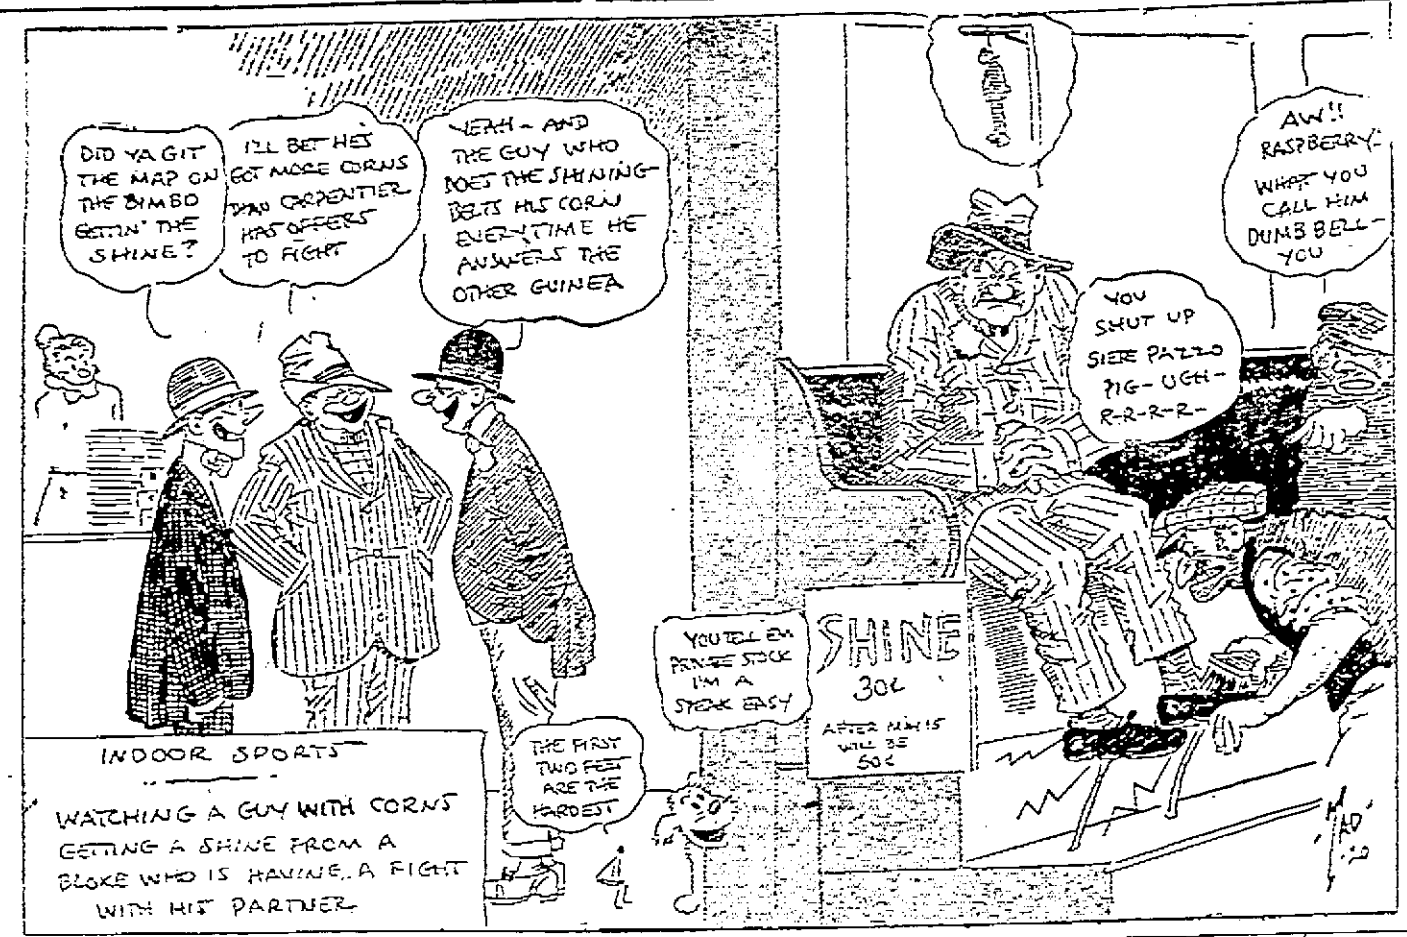

As the match neared its close both players appeared to be nearly exhausted, but were still able to put some good fast shots across the net. A roar went up from the crowd when Parke scored the last point and there was an ovation for him that lasted three minutes.

Parke is one of the strongest English players and his victory today has given Englishmen fresh hope for success in the approaching Davis cup contests. While the Americans naturally were disappointed, Samuel Hardy of Chicago commented:

"We are making no excuses." It was generally admitted by the English competitors that Johnston was not up to his usual standard. The other Americans who played today, Samuel Hardy, Axel B. Grauer of California, and R. Norris Williams won their matches.

Carpentier's Situation Is Most Unique One In Ring

BY NORMAN E. BROWN
GEORGES CARPENTIER, European champion, has been in this country three months and hasn't fought a single scrap with anyone, to say nothing of meeting Jack Dempsey. He has pulled down a fat sum for appearing in the movies—a common stunt of ring champions that is growing in popularity among the fight fans. But despite these two facts the French boxer is more popular with the American sporting public right now than he was the day he landed in New York. March 23, said the well-known plaudits of the multitude.

Which presents an odd situation. His present popularity isn't due to the fact that he is the European champ. It isn't because he has convinced the American boxing public in general that he can lick—or hold his own—with Dempsey.

It isn't because of his impressive record abroad. The bare facts in the record book do not paint him out as a formidable man.

It is because the U. S. fans have come to realize that Carpentier stands out as the most unusual man in the ring game today.

His refinement, his dainty appearance in street clothes, his modest bearing, and his 73-second knockout of Joe Becken, the toughest boxer in England, have thrown a gleam of mystery about him. The American public can't quite fathom him, but they have seen enough of him to know that he can't be considered a joke fighter—as have been many of the European visitors—and that he can't be merely a setup for Dempsey.

When Carpentier arrived in New York the festivities there in his honor were unusual. Instead of basking in the limelight in sporting centers or playing to the camera Carpentier was received in style at the Ritz by the sporting elite. Maj. J. Anthony Drexel-Biddle, millionaire boxing enthusiast, and men of his type welcomed the champ. Carpentier and his manager were whisked out to the mansion of Jack Curley, millionaire fight promoter—on Long Neck, where the millionaires dwell. Carpentier appeared at evening functions in proper dress—sans diamonds, loud apparel and other attributes of fighters as we think of them ordinarily.

Why his first friendly little exhibition on this side was staged in the drawing room of Curley's home. He and Gen. Curley's son, Corbett, peeled off their dress coats, turned back their white cuffs and, stepping about in patent leather pumps, exchanged feints and passes. There weren't over thirty people present.

Newspaper men at these functions realized immediately that Carpentier wasn't flourishing in society. He appeared as of the manner born. He got away with it. Of course, the main topic on his arrival was what Carpentier thought of Jack Dempsey. Dempsey had almost killed a giant to win the heavyweight title from Willard. His record showed him to be a terror—a man-killer. Then, too, Dempsey was in bad with the law. San Francisco authorities had called him a slacker; had indicted him and were preparing to make him defend himself against the charge of slacker. Carpentier had made a name and suffered wounds in the World war.

His opinion of Jack
How did Carpentier handle this? First of all he stated quietly that he did not fear Dempsey. When he had seen movies of Dempsey's work against Willard he said quietly: "Monsieur Dempsey is a grand fighter but nothing to fear. I believe I can beat him in six rounds." And by that time Carpentier had impressed the fans so an extent that they didn't exactly laugh themselves to death over the remark.

About the slacker business, Carpentier repeated to me the other night his views. Through an interpreter he said: "I have passed no judgment on Monsieur Dempsey even now. He did not fight. But there were millions of others in the world that didn't go to war. Why should he alone be chosen for punishment? There are so many things about your draft system, your questionnaires, your different branches of service about which I know nothing. So I have just let the matter rest. I am ready to fight any time. Mr. Dempsey is in a position to. I am here to fight him and not to be his judge."

And now Carpentier is touring a part of the country to give fans a look at him. With the man in the ring against him his own sparring partner, Georges' work isn't impressive, based on results. But I have in mind the tame, uninteresting exhibition Dempsey gave in his road act last summer. One can't kill one's sparring partner once or twice a day, therefore Dempsey had to withhold his man-killing wrath and Carpentier must slow down.

Has Husky Legs
But his build and the way he handles himself really impresses fans. He has Dempsey's solid legs—built for hitting. His shoulders and arms aren't as powerful as Dempsey's, but the Frenchman seems to be built more free through the chest—which gives him more speed.

He can hit fast—as dispatches said of him. His left jab travels like a bullet when it hits. It is at his best. That's quite speedy.

The visitor has a surprising way of upping himself with his left and almost at the same time connecting to the face with an overhead hook. He uses his speed to good advantage in infighting—firing a rain of blows into the stomach. He is crafty. And, above all, he is in superb physical condition.

Doesn't Seek Limelight
His modesty is apparent on his exhibition tour. The night I hunted Georges and Curley up—Curley is managing the tour—the champ was sitting in a dark corner of the open-air arena, away from the crowd, watching some preliminary bouts. He was oblivious to all interest he drew.

The American public still is pretty sure Dempsey will drop Carpentier in six rounds, but there is a note of sympathy rather than one of derision in their tones when they make said assertion.

The Madison Sportlight

By Paul A. Holmes

THE YEAR'S wrestling season is apparently over. There has been no word from Dr. E. L. Bump, promoter, that he intends to stage any more grappling bouts in the near future. The last bout, when French and Marquis Marquis of Queensbury were bottled to a draw, was staged on the evening of Memorial Day, and the crowd which appeared was not as large as usual.

Dr. Bump seemed to think that this was because the city was tired of wrestling. He should also take into consideration the fact that Memorial Day is a holiday, and that people flock out of the city and not into it. Also the evening was warm, and on warm evenings there are less pleasant things to do than to watch two men exerting themselves to the utmost by rolling and tumbling on a canvas.

Wrestling, when staged indoors, is essentially a cold weather sport. Madison is not tired of wrestling, and neither is it unable to appreciate the quality of the matches provided by Dr. Bump. It enjoyed them, and will enjoy them in the future when autumn rolls around again.

In the meantime, the sporting perspective of the city is fixed on boxing. One show has been staged, and others are being planned for the near future. There are several obstacles to contend with in the staging of boxing shows, however, and the greater of these is public sentiment. There are lots of people who still think boxing is the same old brutality, and that followers of the sport are of a low order of humanity.

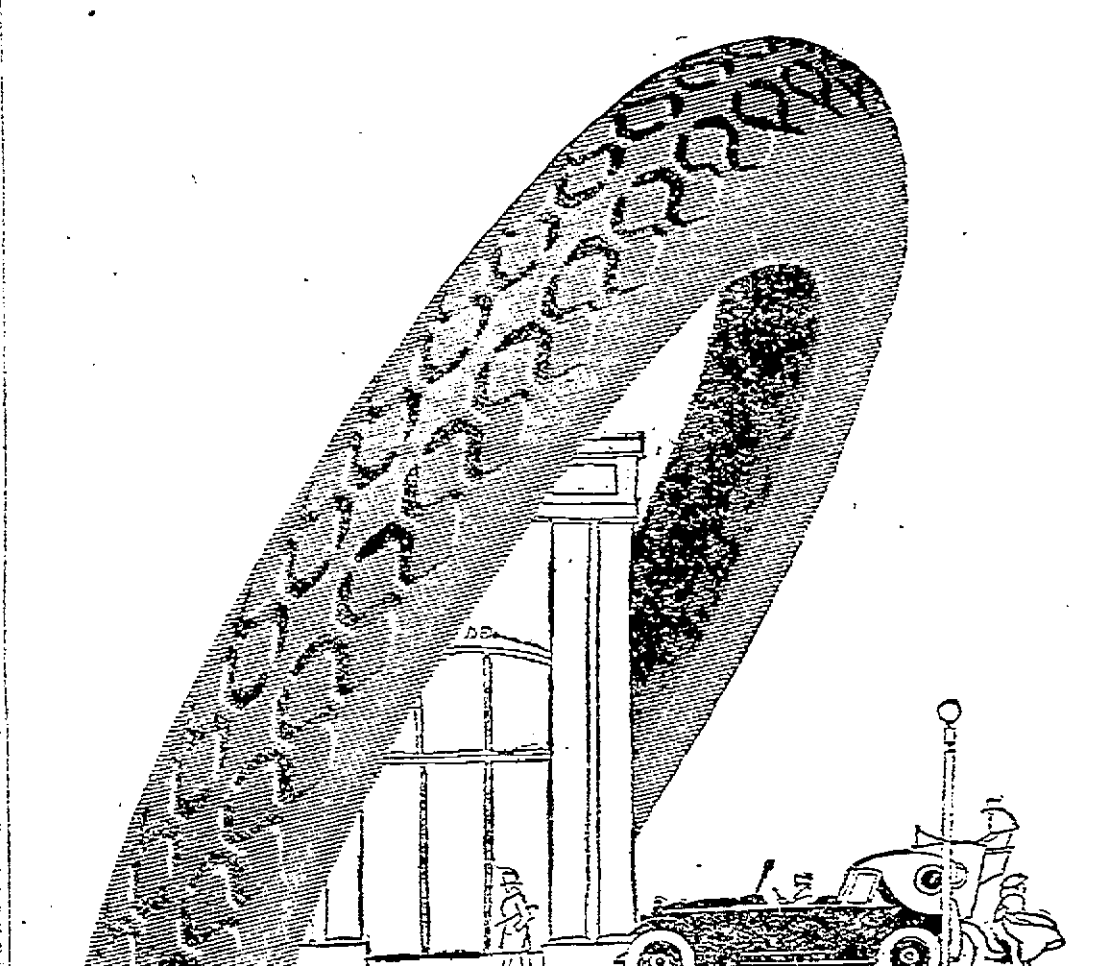

Boxing, as a sport, came into being during the war, and so far it has been its own master. A few boxing fans who think more of the money they make than of anything else, "manly art" as you might say, are degrading it in a sense, but not in a sense that is a detriment to the sport of young manhood.

The members of the new board of Madison have not taken any consideration this season of the viewpoint. They are planning a brutality and degrading exhibition in the arena, and close their eyes to all that. The Madison show should be open to open them. It should be staged a boxing show. The Madison show should have little to complain of in the outcome of the fight, or in the attitude of the crowd. What they will be the grounds upon which their complaint will be based?

The Elks' Club has a boxing case for the staging of boxing bouts for members only. There is a fine bunch of amateurs and professional boxers who make a nice piece of putting on exhibition, and before private clubs and the city ought to be able to secure a good talent. The members are enthusiastic, and negotiations are under way for matches in the future.

The $1.50 and $5.00 seat support for future Madison Park boxing matches is meeting with general approval. The fans like the seats, but they also like the prices. Boyd's next show, if it is on according to that basis, promises to make "standing room only" signs necessary.

(By the Associated Press)

CHICAGO — Prices dropped sharply in the corn market today owing to lack of support. Favorable corn advices about corn and other grain as well as a good deal of talk the selling side popular. BIRGE AND SUR-TAXES

As a scholar and educator, President E. A. Birge of the university is a man of recognized ability. As an economist he is a back number.

Speaking at the alumni dinner of the university Tuesday evening, President Birge is quoted as saying that he objected to "supporting the university by sur-taxes on incomes;" that the destinies of the institution are controlled by that body that pays for it "and that the upkeep shall be one in which every citizen of Wisconsin has a share." If this theory is correct, the profiteers of the state should now pay all university taxes. In recent years this institution has been the shield and defender of wealth.

Honor we pay to the distinguished services that President Birge has given to this state, but we cannot agree with his antiquated Philipp doctrine. For upwards of fifty years the university has been supported entirely by mill taxes—a general tax on the real estate. That was the great source of taxation in this state. In 1911 the income tax principle was approved by the people of this state as a part of the state constitution. Now there are two sources of taxation: general property and incomes. Is there any reason why the wealth of the state should escape all of the burdens of educating the public?

Within the past ten years the sentiment of this university has changed. It too easily defends the profiteer and has little to say for the poor. Let's make this a people's university. Make it an institution that will call to the citizenship of the state to come here for an education. Let's not make it an institution supported by the general common people of the state for the education of those who are wealthy.

President Birge says there are many men in the state who pay no other taxes than income taxes. By opposing sur-taxes you lift the burden from those who have wealth. The mill tax for the support of the state university reaches every person who has land and buildings. The widow with her cottage mortgaged to the guards, but with a garden must pay her tax for the support of the university. And here comes President Birge in a public address and says he is opposed to sur-taxes.

The legislature by a majority vote has spoken in favor of sur-taxes for the support of educational institutions. There should be a combination of both property taxes and sur-taxes to support the university. That is what Senator Severson contended for in the legislature. Large incomes as well as the widow should pay, and pay substantially.

May we give President Birge a single illustration? The Thomas B. Jeffrey Company of Kenosha (now the Nash Motor company) in 1914 had a net income of $22,970. This is taken from a sworn statement in the office of the county clerk of Kenosha. In 1917 this company had a net earning of $2,504,886. And in the year of Our Lord, A. D. 1918, the Nash Motor company had a net earning of $9,150,290. Do you not remember that the head of this company was welcomed to speak at the university and in 1919 appeared before the Wisconsin legislature and said that the farmer should bear more of the taxes, that industry would be driven out of the state by more taxes on incomes? Think of it just a minute! A jump from $22,970 in 1914 to $9,150,290 in 1918!

"President Birge objects to sur-taxes on incomes of the wealthy," is the headlines in the papers.

Honored as you should be by the people for your educational work, President Birge, we shall not follow you in the path of Gov. Philipp with this doctrine of taxing the common people all of the time. We believe that all people should pay taxes and that every source of taxation should be utilized for the support of the university. Equality of taxation; not special privilege exemption from taxation is our plea. This is no fallacious doctrine. It is this doctrine that must come if the university is to be liberally supported.

The Nashes and the men who are making large wealth in this state will pay some of their money in income taxes for educational purposes, if we are to have any voice in the matter.

The Nation Discusses Wisconsin at Convention

Oswald Garrison Villard in his account of the Chicago convention in The Nation says:

"But, as it was, money was written all over the convention. It would have been impossible to throw a stone into any group of men without hitting a banker. One wondered after a visit to the Blackstone how business could be going on in Wall street when so many of its most distinguished figures were in Chicago. No one will of course deny that a banker has as much right as anybody else to attend a party convention, but if one is aware of the feeling abroad as to the relationship between bankers and the political campaigns, it is undoubtedly the part of political wisdom not to have every single firm on State or Wall street too conspicuously represented or by too many partners. Special privilege, big business, great wealth was everywhere in evidence in the gathering.

"The one refreshing incident was the minority report presented by E. J. Gross of Milwaukee. This was the second time that he has had the courage to do this. Four years ago he similarly rose in meeting, but which he confronted was less tolerant than that of 1916. When he demanded that the convention take a stand as to the peace treaty which was not open to misunderstanding, the delegates listened glumly; but when he went on and outlined some radical doctrines such as the taking over of the stock yards and railroads there was pandemonium. Evidently Chicago is particularly determined that none but private ownership shall have the credit of its beloved stock yards. 'Throw him out, Mr. Lodge,' bellowed a man next to me. 'He is an anarchist and a socialist.' Mr. Lodge stood up for Mr. Gross's right of free speech manfully, but the delegates and the audience liked Mr. Gross no more than they did the rest of the Wisconsin delegates whom they booed and hissed and jeered when La Follette from first to last refused to make the vote for Harding unanimous. Wisconsin did not belong in 'unbossed' conventions like this one. It proposes to think for itself when and where it pleases. Perhaps it understands what effect the Harding nomination will have upon the progressive voters of the northwest. At any rate the convention made it clear that it considered Mr. Gross's having views of his own most disgusting impudence.

"Certainly there was no other progressive to speak. Gifford Pinchot was in Chicago and so were Mr. Garfield and Raymond Robins and lesser Bull Moose lights. Some 25 of them dined on Monday night, together with the young Roosevelt, just to recall the good old days, but that was as far as matters went. The bosses had Borah and Johnson to worry about, but no one else. How they do hate this group—contributing to it precisely their own attitude and desire to rule or ruin.

"What an opportunity this republican fumbling gives the democrats at San Francisco need not be stressed. They need only take Mr. Gross's minority report to prove the unpopularity of their opponents, and aggressiveness of their opponents, and there are many other vulnerable points offered to them by the acts of the republican apostles. A week ago it seemed as if the democrats would have an absolute walk-over. Today the democrats seem to have a fighting chance if they play their cards well. It is possible that they will be powerfully aided should La Follette decide to run on the third ticket which will be put into the field the middle of July. But without anticipating that, the facts are that the 'unbossed' republicans have left Chicago for home after having alienated organized labor and the suffragists, both surely to be reckoned with in November, disappointed the various racial groups who had been more than ready to enlist, and chilled the enthusiasm of the considerable progressive elements. For the liberals who remained hopefully within the party, whether under the banners of Johnson, Hoover, or even Leonard Wood—believing him to be Roosevelt's reincarnation—will find it difficult if not impossible to vote for Harding and the money bags and bosses who will direct his well-disciplined mind. Perhaps, after all, the convention was useful—it will hasten the American people's awakening."

We have only this to say regarding the decision of the supreme court on the prohibition amendment—and we guess we won't say it.

At The Theaters

At The Majestic—In "Purity" the special art picture drama now being shown at the Majestic Theater, Miss Audrey Munson, the star, a famous model for sculptors and painters, appears in a number of scenes in the movie, presenting the poses in which she has been immortalized in marble and bronze. Miss Munson's appearance is accomplished without the possibility of offense. The motion picture camera has done exceptional justice to her beauty of form.

At the Fuller—If you're becoming restive to see a good picture, suppose you try "The Fortune Hunter," which is the offering at the Fuller for the balance of this week, including Saturday. It has been made from the popular play by Winchell Smith. It has not a situation that is not perfectly logical. There is not a character in the cast who is not as real as life. And if you've ever lived in a little country town, or visited in a little country town, in "The Fortune Hunter," the little country town featured will appear to you as an old, old friend.

At the New Strand—Bryant Washburn will be seen at the Strand theater commencing today in the Paramount Asterisk picturization of the famous stage farce, "Mrs. Temple's Telegram."

The story is a laughable mixture of jealous wives and husbands and is said to set a rapid pace. Mr. Washburn has the role of Jack Temple, intensely devoted to Clara, his wife, who in turn is excessively jealous of him. As a special added attraction Larry Semon in another of his roaring comedies, entitled "School Days," will also be shown.

Accepts New Post—Edward J. Samp, formerly secretary of the Madison Association of Commerce, has resigned as secretary of the Niles, Ohio, Chamber of Commerce, to become general manager of the Niles Housing Co., organized with a $600,000 capital to build modern homes.

Fire at A F Laundry—The central fire company extinguished a small blaze at the Three F Laundry at 1 o'clock this morning. No damage was done either to the building or to the clothes.

HOOVER SHOCKS THEM

Political bombs are exploding in the democratic camp pretty regularly in these pre-convention days. Among these the detonation of Mr. Hoover's latest outgiving will be heard in certain democratic newspaper sanctums, especially the dignified retreat of Editor Cobb of the New York World.

Not long ago the World nominated Mr. Hoover for president, and so great was its faith in him as a political superman that it announced its intention to support him on any old ticket.—Milwaukee Sentinel.

OUTLOOK HOPEFUL

The business machine can possibly run smoothly with prices so high and production not fully adequate. There must be much uncertainty. There must be some corruption. But the inflexible credit system that has caused the most serious financial trouble in past years, does not now exist. There seems to be a growth of sentiment among the people against extravagance and in favor of production. So in the main the outlook seems hopeful.

GRADING POTATOES

It is impossible to have satisfactory trade in potatoes without grading—and it is impossible to have reliable grading without potato warehouses. Uniform and established rules, the same as the grading of wheat in the grain elevators. This is not for the protection of consumers alone, but also for the protection of producers. Thus good potatoes would command the price that represents quality, and there would be incentive for improved quality.—Superior Telegram.

VITROLITIC CUSS

Mayor McHenry of Oshkosh is a vitrolitic cuss. In a how at a board of education he uses the terms "liar and coward" and "whelp." He was "not referring" to Supt. M. N. Melver but went after the latter as one who was "trying to dictate to the board of education" and who was "playing politics." All of which shows that the art of loving one another, and living together in peace and unity was lost in the old garden of Eden and not even in Oshkosh can it be survived.—Eau Claire Leader.
